BACKGROUND

HEALTHY WORK - HEALTHY LIFESTYLE – HEALTHY BUSINESS

In times of increasing global competition the health of the workforce becomes one of the key resources of competitiveness and capacity to innovate. Ageing European populations and ageing workforces in particular require a stronger investment in healthy living and working conditions.

The workplace is an important setting for successful health promotion strategies because employees today spend a growing amount of time at work and a better state of health can be created here through a healthy working environment, organisation of work and the promotion of healthier lifestyles. Large numbers of premature death and chronic diseases could principally be avoided through the promotion of healthier lifestyles. And the investments pay dividends: a conservative estimate of the benefits from workplace health promotion indicates a likely annual return of three to one or more.

However, improved individual awareness of one's own health will not be sufficient to ensure a healthier working life in the future. A comprehensive approach is needed which stimulates the development of healthy and participatory enterprise cultures and which involves both the physical and mental well-being of employees.

Encouraging more enterprises throughout Europe to invest in more and better health at work - this is the aim of the European Network for Workplace Health Promotion (ENWHP).

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The conference in Perugia will conclude the 7th ENWHP initiative “Move Europe”, focussing on comprehensive workplace health strategies integrating lifestyle management into a wider approach for improving the quality of working life. Three specific issues will be addressed at the conference:

- Comprehensive lifestyle management
- Working life on the move: nutrition, fitness and well-being
- Enjoyment of a healthy workplace: supporting physical and mental health

A plenary presentation will take place for each of the three topics and will be followed by more in-depth discussions and presentations of Models of Good Practice to be held by company representatives identified in the course of the “Move Europe” campaign to foster exchange of experiences in the field.

ABOUT ENWHP

Founded in 1996 and is comprised of national occupational health and safety institutes, public health institutions and ministries of health and labour from all the Member States of the European Community, the countries in the European Economic Area, and Switzerland. As a contribution to sustainable economic and social development in Europe, the ENWHP members and partners are committed to develop and promote good workplace health practice.

PERUGIA

In the spring wildflowers transform the rolling Umbrian countryside into a rainbow of colour, but still one's eye is drawn upward, to the tops of the surrounding hills, to the walled towns perched above. Perugia, the capital of Umbria, is one of Italy's best preserved towns, with a strong artistic and cultural tradition. The fresco painters Perugino and Pinturicchio lived here, and their works are part of a comprehensive collection of Umbrian art displayed in the 13th century Palazzo dei Priori, or town hall, considered one of the finest secular buildings in Italy. The frescoes of Pietro Vannucci, Perugia's most important Renaissance painter, can be seen on the walls of the Collegio del Cambio, built in 1450. Perugia was founded by the Etruscans, who built the city walls and the imposing arched main gate of the city. It is also the site of the annual Umbria Jazz Festival, and home to the famous Bacio Perugina.
